Organization Background

Myotonic dystrophy (DM) is the most common form of the muscular dystrophies. According to leading researchers' estimates, as many as 1 in every 2,100 people in the United States are living with DM or at risk of passing on the disease to future generations; most are undiagnosed. Myotonic dystrophy is a highly variable, multi-systemic genetic disorder for which no therapy or cure currently exists. However, it is a hopeful time as drug development is advancing!

Launched in 2007 by a deeply committed Board of Directors, the Myotonic Dystrophy Foundation (MDF; www.myotonic.org) is devoted to accelerating research efforts focused on the search for treatments and a cure for DM and enhancing the quality of life of people living with the disease. The organization has a track record of incredible success in growing the drug development pipeline, research, advocacy, patient care and fundraising.

In the last decade, dramatic and exciting changes have occurred in the research, treatment and drug approval pipeline for rare diseases, including DM. The field of DM is now at a "tipping point" with respect to therapy development, visibility, and global reach.
